Dear Parents,

Next week is Family Week and also a time when we celebrate Catholic Care’s 80th year of caring for families in our community. It is also the 30th anniversary of Catholic Care working in partnership with the Catholic Education Office. Family week encourages students to reflect on their own families; the role family plays in enriching and supporting us in our personal growth and goals; and what it means to be part of a caring family. Catholic Care carries out a very important role in our community and sometimes the great work Catholic Care does goes unseen.

Listed below are some of the areas in which Catholic Care supports and helps members of our community.

- Refugee and Settlement Support—equips newly arrived refugees and humanitarian entrants with the social and life skills necessary for successful integration and settlement into Australia.
- Clemente Fitzroy—offers, at no cost, supported tertiary level education in the humanities for adults who have experienced significant disadvantages. These disadvantages may include mental health issues, previous imprisonment, homelessness or major psychological distress.
- School Refusal—offers early intervention to families and treatment to children suffering anxiety or refusing to go to school.
- Chaplaincy—outreach and pastoral care to women, men and youth in Victoria’s prisons and justice centres; comfort to families as they work through grief and pain; and minister to those living with HIV/AIDS.

These are only a few of the services offered by Catholic Care but they do represent great work that this organisation does. Next week as we celebrate family week I would ask all families to spend at least one night having a family meal together and celebrating family week and the benefits of having a loving family. We can sometimes take family for granted and overlook wonderful benefits that a good caring family can provide.

Alistair Lynch, a former AFL footballer, has written a book titled “Taking Nothing for Granted”. In this book Alistair Lynch writes the following about his family,

“As a father of three children I live by the creed that my main responsibility in life, in partnership with my wife Peta, is to provide our children with as many different experiences and opportunities as possible. To help them learn many lessons as they can; to understand the difference between right and wrong; to appreciate qualities like fairness, honesty and integrity; and to recognise the invaluable worth of friendship, health and happiness. To help prepare them for adulthood so that when they have to make their own decisions and fend for themselves they will have a good foundation on which to base their adult lives.

From the moment they were born children have been the most important thing in my life -along with my wife. They are the reason I get out of bed with assessed the life every day, and go to bed at night with a degree of satisfaction and contentment.”

I’m sure that we all share the same sentiments that Alistair Lynch shares with us when thinking about the values of family.

Fr. Jim Clarke — I would like to inform all families that Fr. Jim Clarke’s father, Norman, died last Sunday evening. Please keep Fr. Jim, his mother and family in your prayers and thoughts. The Requiem Mass for Norman will be celebrated at St. Mary’s of the Angels Basilica, Yarra St. Geelong on Friday 1st May at 11.00am.

Paul Jennings — has written tips on how we can help our children catch the reading bug. This is well worth reading and has something in it for all parents.

“A child who is lost in a book will always find their way home. They have been on an adventure. They have flown to the moon, they have saved the world, and they have slain dragons. They have lived the lives of others. They have discovered new worlds. They have discovered themselves. They have been lost. They have laughed and cried and shivered and wondered. When they returned to you they will have changed for ever. And they will have had fun. The one person who will do more than anyone else to help your children have fun learning to read... is you. There isn’t enough money in the world to lure a child who dislikes reading into putting in an effort if the material is no good. You need a top story. You need a subject that interest the child. And you need something that they can read. Here are some of the things I touch on in my book “The Reading Bug”.

- Find out what the child is interested in. There is a book for everyone
- Let children choose their own books sometimes.
- Praise, stimulate and accept.
- Set the simple by reading yourself.
- Fill your house with books maps, newspapers, etc.
- If the child is struggling, find an easy book.
- If the child is bored find a better book.
- Guessing unknown words is good.
- Struggling with sounding out is bad.
- Have the child keep a diary or journal.
- Encourage them to write letters or write out recipes or shopping lists.
- Let them help to plan holidays - using maps, itinerary, etc.
- Encourage emailing.”

Taken from Paul Jennings’ book ‘Come Back Gizmo’
School Athletics: Will be held this Friday. Information regarding the school athletics has already been sent home. Just a reminder that all children are expected to wear a hat and have sun screen. If you are taking your child/ren home from the sports, a written note must be presented to your child’s class teacher. If a note is not presented your child must return on the school bus.

Confirmation Masses: The Sacrament of Confirmation will take place on Saturday 13th June at 2pm and 4pm & Sunday 14th June at 2pm.

Quote of the Week: This week’s quote from Grade 4 Red is “Some people want it to happen, some people wish it would happen and some people make it happen” by Lachie McCarthy.

ANZAC Day badges and tokens: I would like to thank all those children and parents who purchased an ANZAC badge, token or wrist band. $972 was raised and will be sent to Legacy.

Prep Enrolment 2016: Parents who are considering sending their child to St. Simon’s Prep Class in 2016 are invited to attend an Information evening on either Monday 11th May or Tuesday 19th May at 7.00pm. The venue will be the school library. Enrolment folders will be distributed during these information sessions. Please contact the school office to confirm which sessions you would like to attend. This is optional for current families but current parents are asked to collect an enrolment folder from the office which should be available in May. The closing date for enrolments is Friday 19th June, 2015.

PARVOVIRUS (Slapped Cheek Disease): There has been a report of Parvovirus at the school in the prep area. Infection is spread rapidly because those who are infected are most contagious before the onset of a rash (and the consequent discovery of the infection) and are not thought to be infectious after the rash appears. Because of this children are not excluded from school because they have the disease, although they may be kept at home if they are showing signs of being unwell. Best practice is to encourage children to follow basic hygiene practices, such as covering their mouth when they sneeze and washing their hands frequently. A pregnant woman who believes she has been in contact with a case of parvovirus infection should consult the doctor supervising her pregnancy.

School Uniform: As from Monday 4th May all children are to be in full winter uniform.

Working Bee: The next working bee will be on Saturday 16th May commencing at 9.00am and concluding at 12 midday. All parents are invited. See flyer attached.

The Good Manners Award goes to Grace Ward (Prep B) and Uniform Award goes to Daniel Liang (2 Blue). Well done to these children.

Yours sincerely,

Phil Hesse
Principal

JOKE OF THE WEEK

Then there was Barry O’Loughlin who went to the doctor to get some medicine as he wasn’t feeling very well.
“Of course you can take it, Mr O’Loughlin,” said the doctor, “but take it all off, take it all off and then take another one and so on.”
A few months later the doctor met Barry’s wife and asked her how he was.
“Oh he’s dead,” she told him.
“Did the medicine I prescribed do him any good?” asked the doctor.
“Oh, the medicine was fine,” she replied. “It was all that skipping that killed him.”
